

HEART FAILURE ENDS HONEYMOON

Death of Duc de Chauines,
Who Recently Wedded
Theodora Shonts.

YOUNG WIFE PROSTRATED

FATHER AND MOTHER LEAVE FOR PARIS TODAY.

Paris, April 24.—In the presence of his bride of less than three months, Emmanuel Theodore Bernard Marie d'Albert de Luyne d'Ailly, ninth duke of Chauines and of Picquigny and Marquis of Dangeau, died suddenly from heart failure at 11 o'clock Thursday night, in his apartments in the Hotel Langham, in the Rue Boscador. The physicians summoned to attend the duke in his sudden seizure officially gave the cause of death as embolism of the heart.

The duke of Chauines and the duchess, who was Miss Theodora Shonts, youngest daughter of Theodore P. Shonts of New York, were married in New York on February 18 of this year. The wedding was a brilliant social function, and the end of the brief honeymoon was sudden and tragic. Since the arrival of the duke here a month ago he had lived comparatively quietly at the Hotel Langham, taking an occasional automobile ride in the afternoon and in the evening dining with intimate friends or going to the theatre.

Suffered for Years.
The duke for years has suffered from a weak heart and for some time had been the subject of fainting spells. Several times since his arrival here he consulted Dr. Henri Jaccovsky in an effort to obtain relief from his ailment.

Yesterday evening the duke and the duchess, both in the best of spirits, returned from a drive in the Bois de Boulogne. They dined in their private apartments, and an hour after dinner the duke complained of feeling ill and retired.

About 11 o'clock he was suddenly stricken, gasped for breath and immediately lost consciousness. The duchess was seized with panic and screamed for aid. A maid who responded to her cry was hurriedly dispatched for Dr. Jaccovsky, while the hotel management summoned another physician. The two doctors arrived simultaneously at the bedside of the sufferer and administered the most powerful of heart stimulants, but their efforts were in vain.

Expired in Wife's Arms.

The duchess was holding the duke in her arms when he expired. She was overcome by grief and could not be persuaded by doctors for her American friends who visited the apartment to leave the bedside of her dead husband, and kept vigil there throughout the night. The duke's death was notified by cable of his daughter's bereavement and a message was received from him today saying that he would take the first steamer leaving New York, and come to Paris. The duke's family was notified this morning. The duchess, the Duchess d'Uzes, who was at Biarritz, started immediately for Paris. Today Mrs. H. Millington Drayton and other friends did what they could to comfort the distressed widow, whose grief seemed somewhat during the afternoon.

No Mystery About It.

The refusal of the hotel authorities during the afternoon to give particulars concerning the death of the duke led to reports that there was some mystery surrounding it, but these were completely dispelled by M. Jeanton, a police physician, who made an examination of the body in the presence of other physicians, and officially certified that death was due to a natural cause and that there was no necessity for an autopsy.

Tonight the body of the duke was placed in a double oak coffin, and tomorrow it will be transferred to a crypt in the church of St. Philippe du Roule, where it will remain pending arrangements for the funeral, which is expected will not take place until after the arrival of Mr. Shonts from New York.

In accordance with traditions of the French nobility, the duke will be a pretentious funeral and will attract to Paris the representatives of the most ancient families in France with which the duke's family is allied.

STUDENTS VISIT UNIVERSITY

More Than 200 Prospective High School Graduates Shown Through Buildings and Served Luncheon.

It was the annual high school visiting day at the university yesterday, and 224 prospective graduates from high schools all over the state spent the day at the big institution. The young students were conducted throughout the buildings and a special program was given for them in the assembly hall. At noon a delicious luncheon was served for them.

The visitors were principally from the new high schools in the southern part of the state, although there were forty graduates from Ogden High school, accompanied by their principal, D. E. Cloyd. The other high schools represented were Lehi, American Fork, Mapleton, Springville, Payson, Pleasant Grove and Snow canyon at Ephraim. The principals of the high schools accompanied the students and Superintendent Eggertson also accompanied the students from the Utah county schools.

A program was given in honor of the visitors in the assembly hall. The speakers were President J. T. Kingsbury, President R. W. Young Jr. of the associated students and Superintendent Eggertson. Miss Maud May Babcock recited and music was furnished by the choir and university glee club. In the afternoon an athletic program was given on Cummings field, followed by a baseball game between the preps and the college nines. It resulted in a victory for the collegians by a score of 8 to 4.

The visitors were divided into groups and conducted through the buildings. In some of the laboratories special demonstrations were given for them. The machinery in the metallurgy and the shop buildings was started up and in the mill one was treated. The young students also visited the hydraulic laboratory.

A unique feature for the day's entertainment was the luncheon that was served under the direction of Miss Van Cott. In less than thirty minutes the entire 224 visitors were served a lunch, consisting of two slices of white bread buttered, two slices of brown bread buttered, scalloped salmon or scalloped beef, ice cream, milk, ice cream, cake and oranges. The luncheon was served in the sewing room and the tables were decorated with lilies.

RECOVERY SOMEWHAT SLOW

Former President Cleveland Not Well Enough to Be Removed to Princeton.

Lakewood, N. J., April 24.—Although Grover Cleveland is said to be slowly recovering from the attack of stomach trouble, he has not improved sufficiently to return to his home in Princeton, and the date of his leaving Lakewood is still undecided.

Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, the former president physician, arrived here from New York tonight. His coming, however, is not taken to indicate that there is any change for the worse in Mr. Cleveland's condition, as he has made frequent trips here to see his patient during the latter's illness.

In view of the reports that have been in circulation concerning her husband's condition, Mrs. Cleveland today authorized the following statement:

"Mr. Cleveland is recovering slowly but surely from the attack of his old digestive trouble. As he always has found the climate at Lakewood very beneficial, he is remaining there until he shall have gained his health. It has not yet been decided when he will return to Princeton."

Mr. Craven and others, all touching on facts and reasons why this city should not consolidate with the Look county. A committee, consisting of H. S. Townsend, F. W. John R. Funk, one of Park City's oldest and highly respected citizens, died last night in Salt Lake at the Windsor hotel, of sarcoma. He had been ill and under a physician's care since last November, but his condition was not believed to be serious until a few days before his death.

Mr. Funk leaves a wife, two daughters—Mrs. Lillian Jacobson of New Mexico and Miss Frieda of this city, who is one of the teachers in the high school—and his father, also deceased.

The funeral will be held in Salt Lake on Sunday.

GREEKS CELEBRATE EASTER

Elaborate Church Service Tonight Will Be Followed by Merry-making Tomorrow.

All of the members of the Salt Lake Greek colony gathered last night in the pretty little Greek church at Fourth South and Fourth West streets to celebrate Good Friday. As the Greek calendar is thirteen days slower than the calendar in common use in this country, the Greek religious celebrations come a little later than in Roman Catholic and Protestant communities.

Archimandrite Lympo Ropoulous of the Greek church conducted the services last night. The church was filled from 8:30 o'clock in the evening until after midnight this morning.

Places of amusements were closed in Greektown and Second South street between Fourth and Fifth West streets lacked its usual street crowds.

Tomorrow is Greek Easter. The celebration will begin at 11 o'clock tonight and continue until about 1 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Greek church. After the church services the Greeks will disperse to enjoy the remainder of the day in feasting and merry-making.

YEE LOOK WANTS COIN.

Delays Swearing to Complaint Against Yee On.

Yee Look, the Plum alley Chinaman who caused the arrest of Yee On a few days ago, has not yet sworn to a complaint against the accused man and it looks as though he does not intend to. Look alleged that he had stolen $300 from his store. It is suspected that Look was sure to have on detained in the city jail while he negotiates with On's rich father in Carson City, Nev., for the release of his son.

Police P.H. has threatened to liberate On if Look continues to delay swearing to a complaint.

When On, who is a young Chinaman, formerly employed in Look's store, was arrested, he had $23 in his possession. This money is now claimed by Chin Willie, a third Chinaman to appear in the case.

BOYCOTT ILLEGAL.

Supreme Court of Nevada Hands Down Drastic Decision.

Carson, Nev., April 24.—The supreme court of Nevada handed down a decision today which renders boycotts in all forms illegal and also makes it possible for parties injured to recover damages against any individual or corporation who institutes a boycott. The case in question was that of L. C. Bronson of Goldfield vs. the Industrial Workers of the World, The I. W. W. and the Goldfield Miners' union declared a boycott against Bronson, who conducted a newspaper.

The lower court ruled that as the union was a voluntary unincorporated body, it could not be a body be sued. The supreme court reversed this decision and decided "neither under the common law or under the statutes modifying the common law doctrines is it lawful for workmen to combine to injure another's business by causing his employees to leave his service by intimidation, threats, molestation or coercion."

Bronson, through his attorneys, has attached $5,000 of the union money held in Goldfield and Tonopah. He will also sue to recover damages to the full extent of his losses by reason of the union boycott.
